CASE STUDY

---

An established medi spa sought to open a new luxury location that combined relaxation and functionality. This project involved converting a new space into a high-end medi spa, integrating calming aesthetics, biophilic elements, and client-centric features. Despite budget constraints and permit challenges, the design prioritized natural light, acoustic solutions, and brand alignment, ensuring a "wow factor" for luxury clientele.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Challenges:

Space conversion,
budget constraints
and permit challenges.

Solutions:

Lighting and atmosphere, biophilic
design, custom details, natural light and client collaboration.

Results:

Enhance the client's experience, attracts luxury clientele and improve efficiency.

KEY CHALLENGE

---

One challenge was delivering high-end aesthetics and premium features within a strict budget. It required some creative solutions to give it that luxury feel but with a limited budget.

RESULTS

---

While the space is still under construction, the designers on the project kept in mind the seamless integration of luxury elements, functionality, and brand identity.

Once completed, the space is expected to:

- Enhance the client experience with its serene and welcoming environment.
- Attract luxury clientele through its high-end aesthetics and premium features.
- Improve operational efficiency with well-thought-out layouts and acoustic solutions.

TAKE AWAYS

---

This project reinforced the importance of collaboration and flexibility in the design process. Navigating budget and permit challenges required creative problem-solving and clear communication with the client.

CONCLUSION

---

The transformation of this new space into a high-end medi spa showcases the power of thoughtful design in creating environments that blend relaxation with results.

By talking with the client and searching through various options, we were able to make a luxurious design without budget in mind.
